Chief White Explains New Voice Sirens

Same Tone Used for Storms and Tornadoes

The recent installation of the voice sirens in Sewanee has caused confusion among some residents about when and why the alerts are being sounded. Police Chief Robert White offered more details about the sirens and their use.

"The alerts we send out now are no different than in the past with the exception of the voice message," White said. More people are able to hear the alerts now because of the new equipment.

"We will activate the voice siren, using the 'wailing tone,' when there is a severe weather warning issued by the National Weather Service relating to a tornado warning, a severe thunderstorm warning or information received from other credible sources, he said.

White pointed out that the alert tones are the same for tornado warnings and severe thunderstorm warnings and will always be activated with the wailing tone, noting that severe thunderstorms often produce tornadoes.

"We have in the past and will continue to activate the 'wailing' siren for tornado and severe thunderstorm warnings received from the National Weather Service," he said. There are not different warnings for the two weather warnings.

"Straight-line winds [in a severe thunderstorm] can take down trees, and lightning strikes are common here. Tornadoes can hide from even the most sophisticated radar," he said.

"We are not sending out frivolous alerts. When we sound the alert, residents need to seek shelter in a safe place," White said.

White said the most important thing for residents to use is their common sense.

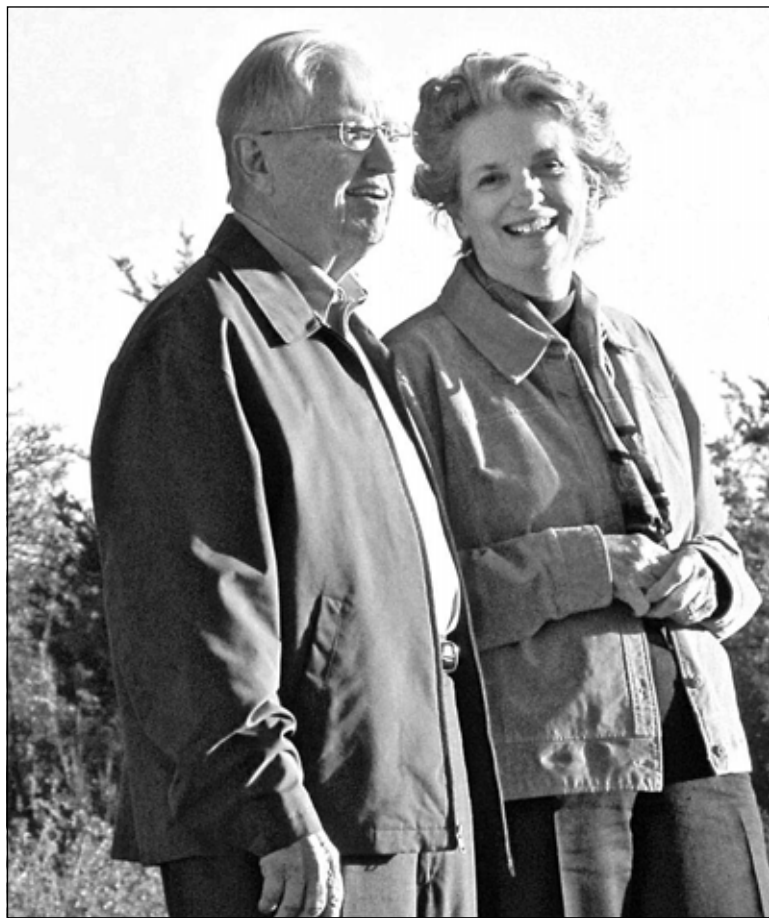

"With all the technology we have, and all the information available to the public—the National Weather Service and its radar systems, TV and radio coverage, weather alert radios—the most important thing people can do is to take severe weather seriously, be careful and use common sense," White said. "The siren is not intended to penetrate all buildings and is only one piece of alert notification.

Last January's tornado in the Midway-Laurel Brae area was never seen on radar. Professor Jerry Smith, a trained weather spotter, detected a wall cloud (that produces tornadoes) and called it in to Sewanee dispatch.

"We are activating the siren when we receive warnings from the National Weather Service and when there's reason to be concerned for public safety," White said. "That's our job, and we want people to understand the importance of taking these warnings seriously and being responsible during severe weather."

The voice siren is also able to make a "yelp" alert, much like a police car's yelp sound. This will be used for non-weather public safety issues such as a hazardous chemical spill or other life-threatening emergencies.

The siren's bell tone is used for the regular noon siren test on Saturdays

Bob and Pat Ayres

St. Mary's Sewanee to Honor Bob and Pat Ayres

St. Mary's Sewanee board of trustees announced that it is naming the new campus the Ayres Center for Spiritual Development, in honor of Robert M. and Patricia S. Ayres of Austin, Texas. The new campus will be built adjacent to its current location in Sewanee and will include 50 guest rooms with private baths, meeting spaces in a variety of sizes, a modern kitchen and dining facilities, four Hermitage houses, a welcome center, a chapel, and a library.

"The Ayres Center for Spiritual Development is a long-deserved tribute to a couple whose care and generosity have touched countless lives around the world for so many years," said Dale Grimes of Nashville, president of St. Mary's Sewanee. "The number of organizations and institutions these two remarkable persons have served, together and individually, and the number of lives they have touched in God's name are almost without number."

St. Mary's Sewanee is one of those institutions. The Center exists today because Bob Ayres, while the 13th Vice-Chancellor and President of the University of the South, purchased land from St. Mary's Convent rather than having it sold to a developer.

Determined that St. Mary's ministry of spiritual hospitality must not be lost and desiring that the Center be available to even more persons, Bob organized a nonprofit entity to foster what he calls "this holy place."

The wisdom of that decision is evident in the 24-year history of St. Mary's Sewanee as a center for spiritual development, education, and a place of beauty for rest and renewal. St. Mary's Sewanee now welcomes 5,000 guests annually. Because religious beliefs can both unite and divide, St. Mary's Sewanee places an emphasis on conversations that can draw people together.

"We cherish the transformative insights that can arise when conversation is grounded in the silence which hold all our difference and when listening is as important as speaking our truth," said Thomas Morris, executive director of St. Mary's Sewanee.

Members of the board of trustees have committed themselves to launch a long-term capital campaign to raise $11.1 million to build facilities that will greatly improve the experience of guests at St. Mary's and broaden the scope of the mission. Strong growth in group reservations, program attendance and guests from across the country has encouraged an expansion of its ministry of hospitality in the beautiful natural setting on the Cumberland Plateau.

Phase One of the campaign has a goal of $6.2 million. $2,796,125 has been raised, half of which has come from the board of trustees. Two challenge gifts of $300,000 and $100,000 have been offered; the $300,000 challenge has been met.

The new buildings are designed to provide comfortable, attractive meeting and lodging spaces and to take full advantage of the beauty of the Mountain and the sweeping bluff views. The layout of rooms and meeting spaces will allow the Center to host several small to mid-size groups simultaneously, with areas of quiet for contemplative practice and suitable gathering places for those engaged in more interactive programs. Phase One plans include the construction of the first residential building with 20 guest rooms, a water tank and septic system to serve the entire campus, a dining and meeting building with kitchen, large and small meeting rooms, and offices. Future phases will include construction of additional residential space and meeting rooms, four Hermitage houses, the welcome center, chapel and library.

In 1977, Bob accepted Sewanee's call to serve as interim Vice-Chancellor and President of the University. During his 11 years, he focused on rebuilding the University's finances and developing the foundation for the vital and leading liberal arts college Sewanee is today. During their years at Sewanee, Pat continued her advocacy on behalf of the hungry, serving as chair of the national board of Bread for the World.

Upon his retirement in 1988, Bob and Pat moved to Austin, where they enjoy time with their children and grandchildren and their involvement with the family's ranching interests. Pat continues to be active as an advocate for children and the hungry. Bob and Pat return often to Sewanee, where Bob continues raising resources for the University and for St. Mary's Sewanee as he pursues his dream of a vibrant center for spirituality on the Mountain.

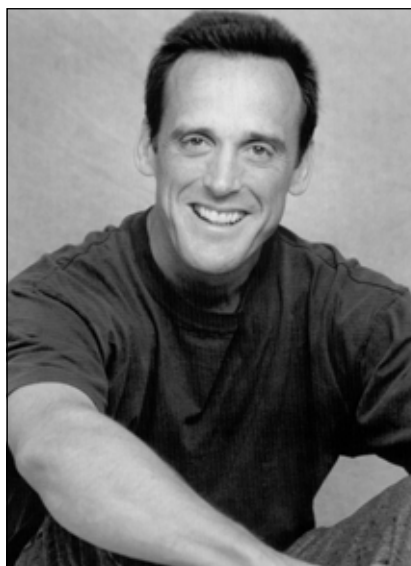

"Cotton Patch Gospel" at SAS

Tom Key brings his one-man dramatic performance of "Cotton Patch Gospel" to St. Andrew's-Sewanee School's McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts tonight, April 15, at 7 p.m.

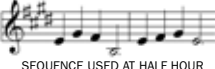

Free and open to the public, no tickets or advance registration are necessary.

This performance is funded in part with an Arts Build Communities grant, funded by the Tennessee General Assembly and administered in cooperation with the Tennessee Arts Commission and the Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee.

VOICE SIREN SYSTEM for weather or other alerts

When you hear the siren wail	When you hear the siren yelp	When you hear the chimes

15 SECONDS	10 SECONDS	SEQUENCE USED AT HALF HOUR
This is a weather emergency, either a tornado or wind in excess of 60 m.p.h. Take cover immediately in the lowest interior space available, away from windows. Do not leave this building until the all-clear is sounded.	This is a non-weather emergency presenting an immediate threat to your safety, such as a hazardous materials spill or other danger. Listen for the voice instructions that follow. Take cover nearby. Do not leave this building unless the instructions are to evacuate.	This is the all-clear or a test of the system. Listen to the voice message that follows.

and to indicate an all-clear after a weather warning has expired.

The new sirens represent a trend on university campuses, according to University spokesperson Laurie Saxton. "They are more effective than the old mechanical siren for a number of reasons," she said, "offering improved coverage and the ability to give additional information by voice."

The university approved an investment of approximately $50,000 (which had actually been set aside a few years ago for security enhancements) for both the new sirens and for improved communications software.

"The new sirens and software will allow SPD dispatchers to more effectively communicate critical information to the campus community. They can supply precise information about a situation, and then allow people to return to their normal activities as quickly as possible," Saxton said.

SPRING PARTY WEEKEND To the Editor:

I want to alert the Sewanee community that the annual spring concert will be held on Friday, April 15, at Lake Cheston from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. The Infamous Stringdusters will kick things off for the evening with the band, Lotus, headlining the event. Fireworks will follow the opening act at approximately 10:20 p.m. The Fowler Center will be the rain location.

The concert is free for those with a Sewanee ID; $20 for all others. Please be aware that there will be increased student traffic on Texas Avenue and Brakefield Road that night, including the customary Sewanee police checkpoint at Old Farm Road during the event. You may hear sound checks starting that afternoon.

Thanks for your tolerance of the noise and traffic Friday night.

NATIONAL VOLUNTEER WEEK To the Editor:

National Volunteer Week is April 10-16, a time to recognize and celebrate the thousands of people who give selflessly of their time and talents in service to others. This is especially important within our nation's hospice and palliative care programs.

We at Hospice Compassus have wonderful volunteers trained and dedicated to making sure those in our communities have the support and care they need when facing the journey of life's end. This journey can be a lonely, frightening and unfamiliar experience.

Nationwide more than 550,000 volunteers give 25 million hours of service every year. We have volunteers that bake birthday cakes, mow grass or plant a flower container for an avid but weakened gardener who'll receive great pleasure from seeing it out the window! That's a part of helping our patients reach their goals of fully living every day.

Hospice and palliative care bring comfort, dignity and peace to help people live every moment of life to the fullest, leaving loved ones with memories they can treasure.

Many misconceptions about hospice exist—that it means “giving up” or “there's nothing more that can be done.” Nothing could be further from the truth! Hospice is about living and making sure those with life-limiting illnesses are surrounded by love and support.

To learn more about hospice and volunteer opportunities, contact me at (931) 455-9118, <Julia.Logan-Mayes@hospicecom.com>, or by visiting our website, <www.HospiceCompassus.com>.

LATHAM DAVIS' CONTRIBUTION To the Editor:

I was thrilled to see the article in last week's Messenger about my new children's book, “William's Wildflowers,” at this weekend's Trails & Trilliums. The story of how the book came about was told well, except for one important fact we omitted. The book's designer and publisher is Sewanee's own Latham Davis.

“William's Wildflowers” is the latest in a long line of beautiful books that Latham has designed through the years. I hope the story will be engaging and educational for children; I know the design will be appealing to all.

Campus Planning Meeting Monday

The campus community is invited to an open forum with Hanbury, Evans, Wright & Vlattas, the architecture and planning firm that has been retained to update the campus master plan. The forum will be held at 7 p.m., Monday, April 18, in Convocation Hall.

Representatives from Hanbury, Evans have made several visits to campus since September to hold collaborative workshops and to tour and learn the campus. Next week's forum is an opportunity to hear updates from them, based on their developing concepts and feedback received during their last two campus workshops.

Additional meetings with Hanbury Evans will be held during the spring and summer as the draft plan is developed. The current schedule calls for final recommendations to be presented to the board of regents in the early fall.

The last Campus Master Plan was done in 2001 and updated in 2005. The projects proposed in that plan—Humphreys, Gailor, Spencer and St. Luke's Halls and the Nabit Art Building, for example—have been completed. The 2011 Campus Master Plan will outline the university's facility strategies for the next 10 years.

Community Council Agenda Items Due

Agenda items for the next meeting of the Community Council are due at the Provost's office by noon, Monday, April 18.

The next meeting of the Community Council is at 7 p.m., Monday, April 25 at the Sewanee Senior Center Building.

We're glad you're reading the Messenger!

Letters to the Editor Policy

Letters to the editor are welcome at the Sewanee Mountain Messenger and are a vital part of our community's conversation. Letters need to be no longer than 250 words and may be edited for space and clarity. We make exceptions from time to time, but these are our general guidelines.

Letters and/or their author must have some relationship to our community. We do not accept letters on national topics from individuals who live outside our circulation area. Please include your name, address and a daytime telephone number with your letter. You may mail it to us at Sewanee Mountain Messenger, P.O. Electronics Recycling in Sewanee in May Hold on to your broken or obsolete electronics and computers! CRS E-Recycling will be in Sewanee from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Saturday, May 7, at the parking lot of the Hair Depot (formerly Steve Green Construction) next to the Sewanee Market.

Among the items that will be accepted are microwaves, computers (CPUs, laptops, mainframes, peripherals), monitors (CRT and flat screen), telephones, cell phones, fax machines, printers and copiers, rechargeable and regular batteries (but not car batteries), stereo equipment and gaming systems. All donations are without charge, except for televisions, for which there is a $10 fee.

This opportunity is important to keep electronics out of landfills so that toxins do not leach into the groundwater. CRS does not send its collected items abroad, but shreds and sorts it into component parts in the U.S.

National Cornbread Festival Begins on April 29

The 15th annual National Cornbread Festival will kick off on Friday, April 29, with a street dance. On Saturday, April 30, and Sunday, May 1, the 5K road race, a cornbread cook-off, arts and crafts, and traditional country and bluegrass music will fill the streets of South Pittsburg.

This year's cook-off includes outstanding recipes submitted by contestants from across the United States. The cook-off will begin at 1:30 p.m., Saturday, April 30, at the Second Street competition stage. The winner will be announced at 4:30 p.m. at Citizens Park.

The contest requires participants to use a cup of Martha White cornmeal and a Lodge foundry seasoned cookware item. This year's finalists and their recipes are: Judy Armstrong, Shrimp Florentine Cornbread, Prairieville, La.; Jennifer Beckman, Tennessee Onion Soup Gratin, Falls Church, Va.; Margee Berry, Caramelized Maple Apple Bacon Brunch Bake, White Salmon, Wash.; Donna Costello, Southern Skillet Cornbread Pizza Casserole, Deford, Minn.; Andria Gaskins, Sausage and Spinach Calzone Cornbread, Matthews, N.C.; Kelly Mapes, Pesto Portobello and Peppers Smothered Cornbread with Balsamic Drizzle, Fort Collins, Colo.; Lori McLain, Yellow Polka Dot Zucchini Chicken, Denton, Texas; Teresa Ralston, Chicken Alfredo Skillet with Basil Parmesan Cornbread Crust, Gorgonzola, and Prosciutto Crisps, New Albany, Ohio; Sharon Ricci, Smoky Bacon, Sage and Pumpkin Cornbread Skillet with Harvest Salad Topper, Mendon, N.Y.; and Brenda Watts, Creole Cornmeal Dumplings in Cajun Chicken Gumbo with Cajun Cream, Gaffney, S.C.

For the complete schedule, go to the festival's website <www.nationalcornbread.com>.

Grundy Co. Farmers' Market Prepares for New Season

Do you grow more than you can use in your garden? Do you make lovely craft items? Come join with others who do the same!

The Grundy County Farmers' Market will have an organizational meeting for members and interested persons at 6 p.m., Monday, April 18, at the Tracy City city hall to discuss the upcoming opening. All local producers are invited.

The second year of the market will be from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m., Friday, April 29 and Saturday, April 30, from 8 to 11 a.m., under the trees in front of the Old High School in Tracy City.

After a good first year, market organizers anticipate offering cool-weather produce, plants for hanging baskets, seedlings for the garden, canned and baked goods for dinner, beef, crafts and perhaps some strawberries. The market's motto is "locally grown and locally made." No resale items or yard sale items are allowed.

This year, customers will be able to use their SNAP cards (formerly food stamps) to purchase food at the market. For more information call Darlene Seagroves at (931) 592-6803.

Civil War Program in Beersheba

Come learn about the Civil War and help raise money for local causes. At 6:30 p.m., Friday and Saturday, April 29-30, Civil War re-enactors will present a program to raise funds for the SAA Ranch, an addiction recovery program.

The event will be at the Adam's Green Acres barn located in Beersheba behind the ballfield on Highway 56. Groups of 20-25 visitors will depart the barn every 15 minutes for a one-hour walking tour through the past. Admission is $10 for adults and $7 for seniors and children.

Walk through the old South and experience the Civil War era. There will be campsites to see, and costumed interpreters will present the history of the war at different stations.

SAA Ranch, located in White City, offers faith-based programs to meet the needs of those struggling with addiction and co-occurring mental health diseases in Tracy City. It also offers private therapeutic horseback riding services free to people with disabilities, children who are victims of abuse, at-risk-youth, and youth after drug rehab.

For more information call (931) 592-5483.

Callaway to Lead Anglican College Association

The Reverend Canon James G. Callaway, D.D., has been appointed as the new General Secretary of the Colleges and Universities of the Anglican Communion (CUAC). Callaway will take his new position at the CUAC triennial conference in Sewanee, May 22-25.

Callaway, deputy for Anglican partnerships at Trinity Wall Street, is widely known throughout the Anglican communion for his work in forging enduring links with the church in Africa and establishing mutual partnerships as a model for ministry. Callaway, C'66, received an honorary D.D. from Sewanee in 2008.

The May conference will bring leaders in education from around the world to focus on the theme "Sustainability: A New Context for Higher Education." CUAC is a worldwide association of more than 120 institutions of higher education and a network of the Anglican communion. Along with its predecessor, the Association of Episcopal Colleges, which consists mostly of the Episcopal colleges in the United States, CUAC's mission is promoting cross-cultural contacts and educational programs.

Tea Party for SSMF Volunteers

People who are interested in volunteering during the 2011 Sewanee Summer Music Festival are invited to a tea at 4 p.m., Friday, April 29, at the home of Carolyn Fitz and John Bordley at 94 Winn's Circle, Sewanee.

The music festival will be in session from June 25 until July 24. Volunteers are needed in a variety of areas: ticket sales, merchandise sales, concert greeters, van drivers, opening registration workers, after-concert party hosts, Sunday concert lunch workers and several volunteer coordinator positions.

Music festival staff will be at the tea to talk about the highlights of the festival season and to explain the rewards for being a volunteer.

Please bring your calendar and come to the tea prepared to sign up. If you are unable to attend the tea, you may sign up at <www.sewaneemusicfestival.org/volunteer> or by calling Fitz at 598-0597.

For more information about the festival, including the concert schedule, visit the festival website, <www.sewaneemusicfestival.org>.

"Spring in the Hollow" in Lynchburg

Spring has come to Moore County! Gardeners and outdoor lovers, rejoice. On Saturday, April 30, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., the Lynchburg Square and Wiseman Park will be filled with plants, food, crafts, music, storytellers, fancy umbrellas, vintage quilts, pretty girls and clever dogs.

The 2011 event has some brand new features. In the morning, there will be an amazing display of Moore County quilts in the IBIS building. The owners and origin of these quilts are being "harvested" as a historical record to be presented to the Moore County Historic Society.

Author Melinda Euval will be signing copies of her book, "Grow Old with Me" at the Lynchburg Ladies Handiwork. The setting for Euval's book is the Quilt Trail. Maps of the local quilt trail will be available for those attending.

Plant and garden vendors will line the town square, and a plant and garden auction will be held at 10:30 a.m. in front of Lynchburg Drug.

There will be music, clogging and square dancing in the gazebo. A new addition this year is the "musical corner" at the Lynchburg Drugstore. From 1 to 3 p.m., "undiscovered talent" is invited to perform. Call Candy at (931) 433-8461 (evenings) to reserve your time on stage.

The Moore County Chamber of Commerce is the sponsor of Spring in the Hollow. For a complete schedule of all events, vendor applications and information and directions to Lynchburg, go to <www.Lynchburgtn.com>.

Menus may vary. For information call the center at 598-0771.

Amacher Offering Massage Therapy

Darlene Amacher, a licensed massage therapist, is opening an office at Stillpoint, located on Highway 41A between Sewanee and Monteagle.

Amacher received her license in January 2001 from the Cumberland Institute of Health and Wellness in Brentwood, Tenn. She has trained in Swedish Esalen massage, cranial sacral therapy, accupressure and Reiki. She is also a certified breathwork practitioner. This work involves psycho-spiritual healing from past wounds.

The Fighter

115 minutes • R • Admission $3

"The Fighter" is the true story of "Irish" Micky Ward, a Massachusetts boxer who won the world light welterweight title in 2000. Ward (Mark Wahlberg) is a fine fighter, but all the people around him want more for him, including his bossy girlfriend (Amy Adams), his demanding mother (Melissa Leo) and his drug-addicted half-brother, Dicky (Christian Bale), who himself beat Sugar Ray Leonard once before discovering crack cocaine. The movie got great reviews for its acting, but the plot was deemed "flat and predictable." Leo and Bale each won Oscars for their supporting roles, which hold the emotional center of the movie. Directed by David O. Russell. Rated R for language throughout, drug content, some violence and sexuality.

King Lear

112 minutes • R • Free

Peter Brook's "King Lear" is a curious artifact from the early 1970s. Shot in stark black-and-white, the film tells the familiar story of an aging king and his difficult daughters. In Brook's version, the world is tundra-like, devoid of heat, light and hope. Though Shakespeare scholars consider the James Earl Jones or Laurence Olivier versions to be truer adaptations of the play, one critic called it a "fascinating, frustrating version with poetic visuals and Paul Scofield's tour-de-force performance as the king." Not rated.

The King's Speech

111 minutes • Rated R • Admission $3

One of 2010's finest movies, "The King's Speech" is deserving of all its many accolades, including the Academy Award for best picture, director, original screenplay and actor. King George VI, known to his family as Bertie (Colin Firth), is thrust to the throne after his brother's scandalous abdication. But Bertie never wanted to be king, and his lifelong stammer paralyzes him in front of a microphone. His wife (Helena Bonham Carter) searching for a way to help him, finds eccentric speech therapist Lionel Logue (Geoffrey Rush). Logue and the new king work together in unusual ways to overcome his speech impediment and form a friendship that changes both of their lives. Rush deserved an Oscar, too, for his remarkable performance. Rated R for one scene where Bertie shouts obscenities, but otherwise it would be PG (i.e., take your kids to see this wonderful film). —LW

University Gallery Hosts Artist Talks

The artist talks for this year's College Senior Art Show will begin at 2 p.m., today, April 15, in Convocation Hall.

The Senior Show, titled "A Plunge Beneath the Surface of the Visible," at the University Art Gallery is a selection of works by Sewanee's senior art majors.

The following artists will each talk for 30 minutes, with the first talk beginning at 2 p.m. Those presenting will be Glenn Bingham, Elizabeth Blaney, Jack Dolci, Kelly Garrett, Carly Grimm, Hanna Moran, Mary Evelyn Pritchard, Kathryn Rogers and Alex White.

The exhibition is on display at the University Art Gallery adjacent to Convocation Hall. The title of the show comes from Steven Millhauser's short story "In the Reign of Harad IV," in which a maker of miniatures is compelled to create ever smaller and ever more challenging artwork, to the point where neither he nor his viewers can easily see its perfection. Full appreciation of the work requires seeing and understanding beyond "the surface of the visible."

Sewanee's University Art Gallery is located at 68 Georgia Avenue. The gallery is free, accessible and open to the public. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday, and noon to 4 p.m., Saturday and Sunday. Public parking is available behind Fulford Hall. For more information call 598-1223. Refreshments will be available at this event.

Timbre Fox Performs in Cowan April 23

The musical group Timbre Fox will perform at 7 p.m., Saturday, April 23, at the Cowan Center for the Arts. The group includes a number of talented musicians.

Laura Walker is a native of the Chattanooga area and has been playing and singing for 30 years. She is a 15-year veteran of the Dismembered Tennesseans. One of the founding members of Sistren, a Chattanooga-based group featuring three-part female harmonies, Walker mesmerizes audiences with her vocal versatility.

Daniel Parkin, a long-time resident of East Tennessee, comes from a musical family. Parkin, a former brick mason who only returned to his musical roots a short ten years ago, penned and performed "Palm of His Hand," a powerful song of faith featured in the award-winning, Oscar-nominated movie "Winter's Bone." He continues to command audiences with his beautiful voice and original songs.

Owen Saunders of Florida is the last of the long bow fiddle players. He has toured with bluegrass greats such as Ralph Stanley, Doyle Lawson, James King and many more.

Dean Arnold, a Minnesota native, is an accomplished mandolin player and an excellent singer. He has lent his skills to several different groups and styles of music. He also gives lessons at the Folk School of Chattanooga in voice and instrument.

Tickets are $8 in advance or $10 at the door. Tickets can be purchased at Cowan Cafe and Sernicola's Restaurant in Cowan. For more information, log on to the website at <www.cowancenterforthearts.org> or call Pat at (931) 691-0722.

"The Foreigner" at Cannon County Arts Center

Laughter and hilarity are in abundant supply April 15-May 1, as "The Foreigner" by Larry Shue returns to the Cannon County Arts Center stage with Mike Reed as Charlie, a terribly shy man who seeks peace and quiet in a rural backwoods lodge.

"The Foreigner" is set in rural Georgia where two English men, Froggy and Charlie, arrive as guests. Froggy LeSeuer, a British demolition expert, has brought along his very shy friend, Charlie. When people try to talk to Charlie, he cannot find words due to his timidity. Before departing, Froggy tells all assembled that Charlie is from an exotic foreign country and speaks no English. This white lie fuels the nonstop hilarity as situations conspire to turn Charlie's holiday from himself into a self-discovery of humor, good nature and even heroism.

Directed by Mary Wilson, "The Foreigner" also features Tim Spry, Phil Mote, Emily Roberts, Pat Garrett, Justin Winton and Becky Coutras. "The Foreigner" is sponsored by First National Bank and is part of the 2011 Stagedoor Series.

Shows are Fridays and Saturdays at 7:30 p.m. and Sundays at 2 p.m. Tickets are $10 each, with discounts available for students, seniors and groups and may be purchased by calling the box office at (800) 235-9073.

The Arts Center is located on 1424 John Bragg Highway, just west of the town of Woodbury.

Name the Park and MusicFest Update

The Sewanee Business Alliance is pleased to announce the first Sewanee Village MusicFest set for Saturday, May 7, from 3 to 10 p.m. Live music, as well as food and refreshments, will be available at the event.

The park is located in the downtown village, between the American Legion Hall and the Lemon Fair, and is under construction. Local businesses will be open and participating in the event. Community members can buy bricks to support the park during the event!

Here is an important message to anyone who may have tried to enter the "Name the Park" contest. If you received an error message, please try again. The bugs are all worked out now. Simply go to <www.sewanee.biz> and click on "Name the Park" contest. Submissions must be received by May 1.

The winning name will be announced at MusicFest. The winner will receive a $250 brick to be placed in the park.

Entries to the contest can also be made by submitting it, along with your name and phone number, to the Sewanee Business Alliance, P.O. Box 101, Sewanee, TN 37375.

"Evening of Hope" to Assist Shelter

April is Sexual Assault Awareness Month and Haven of Hope is hosting "An Evening of Hope," a fund-raiser and awareness event at 6:15 p.m., Friday, April 29, at King's Cross Church in Tullahoma.

Emil's restaurant of Tullahoma is catering the dinner. The Highland Music Alliance, with Chris Blondin and Associates, will provide music for the event. There will also be a silent auction. Tickets are available until April 20 and are $30 per person or $55 per couple, with all proceeds benefiting Haven of Hope. For more information or to purchase tickets, call (931) 728-1133.

The 2006 National Violence Against Women Study found that only one in five of the victims studied reported their rape to the police. Sexual violence is a complex crime that affects every community. It has no boundaries in terms of gender, geographic location, race, ethnicity, economic class, or sexual orientation.

Haven of Hope provides emergency shelter for victims in danger, as well as outreach services inclusive of order of protection assistance, violence assessment and safety planning, as well as educational information to victims in Bedford, Coffee, Franklin, Lincoln, Marshall and Moore counties. For help with issues of domestic/dating violence or sexual assault, please call the crisis hotline at (800) 435-7739.

Animal Alliance South Cumberland Taking Donations for Spring Yard Sale

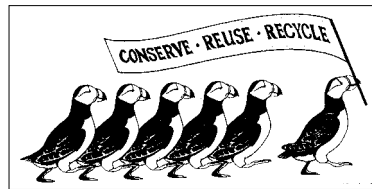

Animal Alliance South Cumberland (AASC) will hold its "Spring Artful Yard Sale" on Saturday, June 4, at the Monteagle Elementary School. Donations are now being accepted. To learn more call (931) 235-9006. AASC may be able to arrange for pickup of larger items.

"We need nice items of any kind: pottery, paintings, yard art, tools, dishes, collectibles and anything else you think would help raise money to fund our spay/neuter program," said Kathy Bouldin, AASC president.

"Do your spring cleaning now and donate all those useful treasures of old furniture, oriental rugs, books, lawn equipment, toys, bicycles or anything you think could help our area's companion pets. No clothing, please," she said.

AASC is a small-budget, all-volunteer nonprofit organization which has helped spay or neuter more than 1,000 pets in 30 months, which translates to the prevention of thousands of unwanted, mistreated or abandoned dogs and cats in the Grundy, Marion, and Franklin county areas of the Mountain.

For more about AASC, go to its website <www.AnimalAllianceSouthCumberland.org> or call (931) 235-9006 to get information on our new grant to help "fix" dogs 40 pounds and larger.

"Oklahoma" at FCHS This Weekend

Franklin County High School presents the musical "Oklahoma!" at 7 p.m., tonight, April 15, and Saturday, April 16, in the FCHS auditorium. Tickets are $10 for adults and $7 for students and will be available at the box office on show nights.

An award-winning classic, "Oklahoma!" was the first musical written by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein. Set in the Oklahoma Territory in 1906, it tells the story of cowboy Curly McLain and his romance with farm girl Laurey Williams.

FCHS's cast and crew of more than 50 students and 25 student musicians have been hard at work to offer this exciting production.

Arts Guild Game Night Fund-Raiser in Cowan

"Come Out and Play: A Night of Cards and Board games," a fundraiser for the Franklin County Arts Guild is at 6 p.m., today, April 15, at the Cowan Center for the Arts.

Guests can play cards, Scrabble, dominoes, checkers and much more, and there will be music, snacks, drawings for prizes, a silent auction and an Art-in-a-Trunk sale filled with art by local artists and others will also be available.

Proceeds from the event will be used to purchase additional lighting at the Artisan Depot. Tickets are $10 and can be purchased at the Winchester Antique Mall. For more information, call 967-9930 or go online at < www.fcaguilid.wordpress.com >.

Arbor Day on Thursday and Earth Month Events

Arbor Day will be celebrated on Thursday, April 21, with a number of special events, all of which tie into April's designation as Earth Month.

Thursday, April 21

10 a.m.—The student chapter of the Society of American Foresters will host a celebration outside the Bishop's Common honoring the 21 years that Sewanee has been selected as a Tree City community. This recognition is given out by the State of Tennessee and the National Arbor Day Foundation. Steve Rogers from the State of Tennessee will present an award to Connie Gall, the University's landscape and forestry supervisor. Children from the University Day Care Center will assist with tree planting and help with the famous "tree dance."

11 a.m.—Professor Karen Kuers' Urban Forest Management course will plant a Yellow Poplar along Georgia Avenue to replace the one removed earlier in the year.

1:30 p.m.—Domain manager Nate Wilson will offer a short presentation on Eastern Hemlock pests and their control. A demonstration of treatment options will be offered.

4:30 p.m.—Elizabeth Derryberry of the Louisiana State University Museum of Natural Science will present a talk in Gailor Auditorium titled "Even Songs go Green: Birds Sing to Match Their Surroundings." Derryberry is an expert on communication in birds and has published widely on the topic.

6 p.m.—Evening of Chemical Magic (see article on page 5).

6 p.m.—Dinner in the Mary Sue Cushman Room, Bairnwick Women's Center. Native American singer and storyteller Michael Jacobs will perform. Much of the meal will be provided by Natural Bridge Catering using local/seasonal favorites from the Cumberland Farmer's Market, as well as snacks provided by students in the environmental residents program and the Green-House. Sustain Sewanee is sponsoring this zero-waste event.

Friday, April 22

8:30 a.m.—Sewanee's first Garlic Mustard Pull! Meet at the South Carolina Avenue entrance to Abbo's Alley. No tools are needed.

Unlike most other exotics, once this invasive plant gets a toehold on roadsides and in disturbed areas, it marches right into the woods, where it out-competes native wildflowers. In some forests, it has become the dominant herbaceous species. This edible herb, now blooming on roadsides in the Sewanee area, has closely-packed, four-petaled white flowers and triangular leaves that have a distinct garlic odor.

11:30 a.m.-1 p.m.—Free minor bicycle repairs session at McClurg by the SOP Bike Shop.

3 p.m.—Professor Michael Blum of the department of ecology and evolution at Tulane University will present a talk in Blackman Auditorium titled "Nalgene Bottles Threaten South-eastern Aquatic Biodiversity." Blum has published widely in the fields of ecology and evolution and was a member of the State of Louisiana Horizon Oil Spill Science and Engineering Review Team.

Saturday, April 23

7:30 a.m.—Bird walk at Morgan's Steep with David Haskell. Look for the migrant birds that will be moving through Sewanee on their journey from South America. No experience necessary. Canceled in the event of rain.

All events are open to the public.

Sewanee Names Head Football Coach

Tommy Laurendine has been named the head football coach at Sewanee, according to Athletics Director Mark Webb.

"After an extensive search process, I am pleased that Oak Ridge native Tommy Laurendine has accepted the position of head football coach at the University of the South," said Webb.

Laurendine comes to Sewanee from the Citadel, where he has served as the offensive coordinator since 2010. During his time at the Citadel, Laurendine coached the quarterbacks and fullbacks, in addition to his coordinating responsibilities. Laurendine previously served as the offensive coordinator, quarterback and fullback coach at NCAA Division II Lenoir-Rhyne College for two seasons. Prior to his stint at Lenoir-Rhyne, Laurendine served as the offensive coordinator at Washington & Lee University in 2007.

"An outstanding recruiter, Coach Laurendine brings to the post tremendous enthusiasm, an exceptional skill set and a genuine desire to lead Sewanee's storied football program," said Webb.

"First of all, I have to thank Mark Webb, Vice-Chancellor John McCardell, and Provost Linda Lankewicz for handling this search with such professionalism and giving me the opportunity to become Sewanee's 30th head football coach. I am so thrilled to be getting an opportunity to move back to my home state of Tennessee and am ready to get to the Mountain," said Laurendine. "I know that overseeing this program will be a lot of fun. We are going to be building something and in the process, building lifelong memories for these young men. I can't say enough how excited I am."

Laurendine and his wife Shawna have two daughters, Alexa, 11, and Lakin, 6.

Tiger of the Week: Tiki Slay

Sewanee senior La'Toyia "Tiki" Slay has been named Tiger of the Week for her performance the week of April 4 through April 10. Slay broke a 17-year-old school record at Saturday's Hilltop Classic on her way to setting season-bests in the 100- and 200-meter dashes.

Slay highlighted the Tiger track team's weekend performance at Birmingham-Southern's Hilltop Classic with a record-breaking performance in the women's 200-meter dash. She finished fourth in the field with a time of 26.59 seconds. Her season- and personal-best time broke the previous women's 200-meter outdoor record by .01 seconds. Quisha White set the previous record of 26.60 seconds in 1994.

In addition to her fourth-place finish in the 200-meter dash, Slay also picked up a fourth-place finish in the 100-meter dash. She turned in a season-best time of 12.74 seconds in the event.

According to head coach Jeff Heitzenrater, "Tiki has worked very hard to come back from knee surgery a few years ago. Now she is stronger and faster than she was prior to the injury. I am really proud of her accomplishments and leadership."

Honorable mention honors went to Allison Bland, lacrosse; Tommy Healy, lacrosse; Dana Middleton, softball; Amy Nusbaum, lacrosse; Joe Reilly, baseball; and Jack Thomasson, lacrosse.

University Sports Summaries

Baseball

Sewanee started off the week with a doubleheader sweep of Rust College on April 7 before dropping a three-game SCAC series to Centre College over the weekend. The Tigers beat Rust, 12-4 and 14-4, in a twin bill on the Mountain, as Colin Barrera and Austin Shea each picked up complete game victories on the mound.

Over the weekend, the Centre Colonels outthit the Tigers, 11-5, in game one on their way to the trio of wins. Joe Reilly led Sewanee with a 9-for-13 effort at the plate in three games, while tallying three runs, two doubles and a pair of RBIs. Sewanee is now 10-17 overall and 0-8 in the SCAC. The Tigers will host a three-game SCAC series with Rhodes College April 16-17.

Men's Lacrosse

Sewanee extended their win streak to four, as they took down SCAC opponents Hendrix and Millsaps on a weekend road swing. The Tigers edged out Hendrix, 10-6, on April 8. Against Millsaps on April 10, 13 different Tigers found the back of the net in a 26-2 rout of the Majors. With the win, Sewanee evens their overall record at 6-6 and sits at 5-1 in the SCAC. They will play host to Birmingham-Southern College at 7 p.m. today, April 15.

Women's Lacrosse

Sewanee split a pair of non-conference match-ups at home last week, topping Whittier in a thriller, 14-13, on April 8, before falling 24-14 to Adrian College on April 10. Sewanee moves to 10-5 on the year and will go on the road this weekend for a pair of SCAC contests against Birmingham-Southern College and Millsaps College today, April 15, and Saturday, April 16.

Softball

Sewanee lost four road games to SCAC rival Centre College over the weekend, dropping their overall record to 2-12 and their conference record to 0-10 this season. The Colonels picked up both ends of a doubleheader on April 9, winning game one, 9-0, and game two, 19-5, despite a perfect day at the plate for Tiger Dana Middleton. Middleton went 6-for-6 on the day. On April 10, Sewanee dropped both games of the twin bill, losing 12-3 and 8-2 to the Colonels. Thibodeaux pitched complete games in taking both of the losses, while Erin Polena paced the Tigers with a 2-for-3 effort at the plate with one RBI in game one. Sewanee will play host to Fisk University on Wednesday, April 20, for a non-conference doubleheader beginning at 1 p.m.

Equestrian

Six Sewanee riders were recently honored for their academic achievements by the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association (IHSA).

Naming a squad for the first time in its 44-year history, the IHSA honored a National First Team for riders earning a 3.8 GPA or higher. Tiger riders Amanda Callihan, Mary Michael Forrester, Campbell Frank, and Carolyn Pearigen were each honored as members of the IHSA All-Academic National First Team.

The IHSA also honored National Second Team for riders earning a 3.5 GPA or higher. Sewanee equestrian riders Elizabeth McClendon and Chandler Snowden were honored on the IHSA All-Academic Second Team.

"I'm extremely proud of our riders. What these kids are able to accomplish inside the classroom, in addition to their accomplishments in the ring, is extremely impressive and something the Sewanee equestrian team is very proud of," said head coach Megan Taylor.

Golf

The Sewanee men's golf team took to the links at Stonemont Golf Course in Stone Mountain, Ga., this week to compete in the Emory Spring Invitational.

Junior Chris Beveridge's 65th-place individual finish paced the Tigers, as Sewanee finished 17th in the team competition.

Women's Tennis

The No. 21 Sewanee women's tennis team dropped a 9-0 decision April 12 to the top-ranked team in Division III, the Emory University Eagles.

The No. 1 Eagles took all three doubles matches from the Tigers before sweeping the singles matches. With the loss, Sewanee falls to 15-5 on the season.

Middle School Soccer

SAS played in a nail-biter April 7 against South Lincoln Middle School in the play-in game for the end-of-season tournament. South Lincoln scored from a powerful shot in the first half to make it 1-0. In the second half SAS had several near misses, but could not find the equalizer until SAS forward Sam Thomas slipped the ball past their keeper with only 10 minutes remaining. The game ended in a 1-1 tie, so the game went into overtime. Despite opportunities from both sides after single and double overtime, the score remained 1-1. After two rounds of sudden-death overtime periods, two rounds of penalty kick shoot-outs decided the winner. The shoot-outs proved to be as close as the game. The eighth shooter for South Lincoln made his penalty kick while the SAS player missed his, giving South Lincoln the win. At the season's end, SAS finished with a record of 2-5.

Middle School Track and Field

At a meet on April 7 at the Baylor School, the SAS middle school track team competed against Baylor and Chattanooga Christian. Evelyn Seavey broke two middle school track records. She broke the 1600 (placing fourth) and the 800 records while Ad-

Aymett Defeated by Fencing Legend

Robert "Skip" Aymett, a junior college student, was recently re-elected vice-chairman of the Tennessee division of the United States Federation Association, and placed sixth in epee at the Dean Richard Memorial Open at Vanderbilt on April 9.

After going 4-1 in a strong first round pool, he received a bye into the round of 16, where he fenced brilliantly to defeat David Young of Huntsville.

In the next round he lost 15-8 to the legendary William "Gypsy" Gelnaw of San Diego, who had already won the foil event.

"Gypsy" Gelnaw was already a legend when I fenced him in the late 1970s," said Dale Sweeney, who coaches Aymett.

"In the intervening decades he has travelled the country in his RV, entering and winning tournaments wherever he finds them. He has perfected a game of such precision and control that he is still a dominating figure on the strip. Gypsy, at nearly 60 years old, has renewed his 'A' again this year, and is proof that fencing is indeed a lifetime sport," Sweeney said.

die Babcock pushed Evelyn the entire way in both races. Mary Katherine Jolly placed second in the long jump, third in the 100 meters and 4th in the 200 meters. Anna Fox placed third in the long jump, and Erin Berner-Coe ran both the 100 and 200 meters.

Baseball

SAS hosted the powerful Dominion Christian School on April 8 and fell to the visiting team by a score of 24-5. "We were thoroughly over-matched in this contest and with our top three pitchers unavailable for the game, we were certainly battling long odds," said coach James Barry. "I was proud of some of the younger guys making some plays." The SAS Mountain Lions baseball team secured their first win of the season April 7 with a 12-5 victory over the visiting Brainerd Panthers. Swade Mooney pitched a complete game, allowing only two hits while striking out eight to pick up his first victory of the season. For the contest, Alex Tinsley and Seth Morris led the Mountain Lions in hitting, as each had two hits. Tinsley scored a run and had three RBIs. Seth Morris scored three runs and had two RBIs. Traveling to Davidson Academy on April 5, SAS dropped a doubleheader to the perennial power and region foe by scores of 17-4 and 11-0. For the season, SAS is now 1-3.

Tennis

The SAS tennis team began its season facing 2010 state champion, Webb School of Knoxville. While SAS played hard, the strong Webb team dominated, as the girls fell 1-5 and the boys fell 0-7. Sadie Shackelford brought home the only win of the day. Next, SAS took on Warren County. The girls' team had no trouble with the sweep, winning 10-0. The boys' team was trailing 1-4 halfway through the match, when they staged a comeback, winning the next three matches to tie the score, 4-4. Unfortunately, Warren County was able to secure the win in the final match. On April 8, SAS played a complete match against region opponent Mt. Juliet Christian Academy as the girls secured another sweep with a 7-0 win and the boys took control with a 6-1 win.

Varsity Soccer

The Mountain Lions were on the road again April 7 to battle with region foe Ezell-Harding. The day was beautiful, the opportunities plentiful, but the luck still hibernating. In the 1-5 loss, SAS found some gleaming moments as John Fisher found Tinashe Zimbwa for a textbook goal near the end of the first half. Keeper Nick Fletcher earned his share of credit with five saves. Seth Burns and Ethan Burns worked hard to maintain composure and team morale as the central defenders. Zachary Blount and Tilghman Myers worked hard to control the central midfield in the second half, shutting down Ezell-Harding's offensive attack. "This was a tough one for all of us in the program. We cannot hide our disappointment. The key now is to raise our team morale and remember why we play soccer, not work soccer," said Coach Andrea Fisher.

Overtime with Coach Shack

By John Shackelford

There is a famous experiment involving how long a lab rat can tread water. When the unlikely swimmer is placed in a tank where he can see an "island" or the edge of the pool, the lab rat can tread water twice as long as one that is given no hope or sight of a place to land.

Hope is a powerful tool. Athletes who are given a glimpse of what may happen, the possibility of winning, the hope of a championship, will always perform at a higher level than those who do not have faith in what the future may bring. When you see a great coach in action, you can tell that they are painting that picture, guiding their team to an island that they may not yet see, but letting them know that it is there and that they can be comforted in what the future holds for them.

We want our politicians to assure us that there will be a chicken in every pot, our priests to show us a glimpse behind the curtain, our teachers to report that our children will somehow survive. As a tennis coach, I have a unique perspective on the difference between an individual sport and the way a team can bond. Being alone on the court, twirling on the ice, or trying to drop a 10-foot put to win the Masters can be a lonely task and an intense psychological battle.

Kids who play years of junior tennis report to me how much more they enjoy the team experience of playing in a college program surrounded by teammates who are trying to achieve common goals.

We often hear about the power of the locker room: that island where teams are isolated and forge a bond of togetherness that makes one plus one equal three. It is difficult to do alone, difficult to tell yourself that everything will be all right, and that there will be some chocolate cream hidden inside your doughnut.

The chemistry that exists in championship efforts lives in the space between us all. It exists in the love we have for our friends and families and the love given to us as a gift. There is a place all parents know—a place just between your left shoulder and your clavicle, where your child finds the comfort of a human pillow. Rarely do you sleep so well as with that human connection, when a heartbeat is just below the resting ear. As that space between us shrinks, we are comforted in the fact that yes, everything will be all right. We can have faith that championships lie ahead and hope in what tomorrow will bring.

At my father's funeral last month I worried that no one would come. No one would remember because he had been gone for so long. I don't use Facebook, and I don't Twitter, so my old connections have been lost due to my own negligence. But as I stood with my family in a greeting room outside the church sanctuary, my old teammates from seasons long ago began to file in, men I had not seen since they were boys. Looks of disbelief were replaced by hugs I will still feel 20 years from now. Those bonds are our islands, a place where hope lives and doubt disappears.

Nature Notes

Return of the Gnatcatchers

The Blue-gray Gnatcatchers are back in Sewanee after a winter in Central America and the West Indies. Jean Yeatman reported some of these tiny birds last week. This bird is not very colorful, but behaves like our Wood Warblers in action. Several of these birds seem to be in all the trees. It look like a tiny mockingbird in blue and gray. It is constantly flitting about the upper branches of trees and shrubs, eating small insects and moving its long tail. It is preparing to build its tiny nest of plant fibers, bark strips and covered with lichens. This nest looks like a bump on the tree limb. The female lays about five bluish white eggs thickly spotted with brown. The upper end of Lake Yeatman is a favorite nesting site for Gnatcatchers, and the Yeatmans' front yard is favored for food hunting. The bird calls in a noisy "ting" or "twang," not musical to our ears, but it attracts other Gnatcatchers.

State Park Offerings

Sunday, April 17

Collins Gulf Wildflower Hike—Meet Ranger Jason at noon at Collins West trailhead for this sublimely beautiful, moderate-to-tough five-mile hike with a 700-ft. elevation change. You'll cross Collins Creek at towering Suter Falls and wind through acres of wildflowers, lunching at a lovely spot near Horsepound Falls before heading back.

Fiery Gizzard Fun Hike—Meet the Ranger at 12:30 p.m. at the Grundy Forest trailhead for this easy one-to-two-mile hike, great for families. Splash in the creek, explore a huge rock house cave and cross wooden bridges. A must for anyone who hasn't hiked the Gizzard.

Buggytop Hike—Meet the Ranger at 12:30 p.m. at Carter Natural Area parking lot for this moderate four-point-five-mile, 640-ft. elevation climb (on the way out). One of the true wonders of the South Cumberland State Park. Hike through woods filled with wildflowers to a huge cave with a creek running through it (you will not be entering the cave).

For more information on this or other programs call (931) 924-2980 or visit the website at <www.friends ofscsra.org/activities.htm>.

The Visitors' Center is located on Highway 41 South between Monteagle and Tracy City and is open seven days a week, 8 a.m.–4:30 p.m.

Zoey

Sashimi

Pets of the Week: Zoey & Sashimi

The Franklin County Humane Society's Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Zoey is a terrier mix with a bubbly personality. She is very affectionate and loves other dogs. Zoey is a perfect medium size, so she'd be great for someone who wants an inside dog who's not too small or an outside dog who's not too big. She is up-to-date on shots and spayed.

Sashimi is an elegant Siamese mix with a lovely triangular face. She enjoys hanging out in a hammock with her sister, but she would love to hang out with you. Sashimi is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots and spayed.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out their other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Please help the Humane Society continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to Franklin County Humane Society, P. O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

Nominations Open for Governor's 2011 Stewardship Award

The Department of Environment and Conservation is inviting Tennesseans to submit nominations for the Governor's 2011 Environmental Stewardship Awards. The awards recognize Tennesseans who go above and beyond to protect the state's diverse environment.

"Tennesseans continue to make great strides in protecting our environment, taking care of our air, land and water through innovation and hard work," said Governor Bill Haslam. "I am pleased to support a program that recognizes leadership that affects the environment and often, the bottom line."

The Governor's Environmental Stewardship Awards cover 13 categories: Agriculture/Forestry; Aquatic Resource Preservation; Building Green; Energy Leadership; Environmental Education and Outreach; Green Schools; Greenways and Trails; Hazardous Waste Reduction; Solid Waste Reduction; Lifetime Achievement; Natural Heritage Conservation; Parks and Recreation; and Pollution Prevention.

Any individual, business, organization, educational institution or agency is eligible, provided they are located in Tennessee and projects were completed during the 2010 calendar year. All nominees must have a minimum three years of environmental compliance with the Department of Environment and Conservation. Self-nominations are encouraged.

"The quality of our environment is so important in our daily lives and citizens continue raising the bar to ensure that Tennessee's communities are healthy places to live, work and play," said Environment and Conservation Commissioner Bob Martineau.

The deadline for nominations is April 30, 2011. Award recipients will be announced in June 2011.

For more information about each category, judging criteria and nomination forms, visit the website at <www.tn.gov/environment/awards>.

From Bard to Verse

by Scott and Phoebe Bates

How to keep—is there any, is there none such, nowhere known some, bow or brooch or braid or brace, lace, latch or catch or key to keep Back beauty, keep it, beauty, beauty, beauty, . . . from vanishing away? . . .
O there's none; no no no there's none:
Nor can you long be, what you now are, called fair,
Do what you may do, what, do what you may,
And wisdom is early to despair:
Be beginning to despair, to despair, to despair,
Despair, despair, despair, despair.

Spare!
There is one, yes I have one (Hush, there!);
Only not within seeing of the sun,
Not within the singing of the strong sun . . .
Somewhere elsewhere there is ah well where! one,
One. Yes I can tell such a key, I do know such a place, . . .
Give beauty back, beauty, beauty, beauty, back to God, beauty's self and beauty's giver . . .
A care kept—Where kept? Do but tell us where kept, where.—
Yonder,—What high as that! We follow, now we follow,—
Yonder, yes yonder, yonder, Yonder.

—From "The Leaden Echo and the Golden Echo" by Gerard Manley Hopkins (1844–1889)

Joseph's Remodeling Solutions
A Division of Sumpter Solutions, LLC.

MISSION STATEMENT: To use our collective strengths and expertise, along with the highest quality materials available, for customer renovations, additions, drainage and rainwater needs in a safe and positive environment, being ever mindful of our impact on our community and our world.

WHO WE ARE: Our team includes Joseph and Alyssa Sumpter and five dedicated and experienced employees, who are ready to tackle projects of any size.

10 STRENGTHS:

- Most work is done by our own crew, made up of folks you will trust having in your house. We have carefully chosen each member of our team and each sub-contractor.
- We love remodeling and additions, and these are our specialties.
- Safety is always paramount on our sites for our crew, our customers, and guests to the site. We are O.S.H.A. certified and covered by workers compensation insurance. We are trained in first aid and CPR. We don't sign insurance waivers.
- Job-sites are kept neat and clean. We don't smoke. We don't leave trash in your house.
- We are sensitive to mold and mildew concerns.
- We give careful attention to low-maintenance and high-quality finishes.
- We are highly experienced at restoring and recreating historic trim and details with on-site milling options.
- We are experts at insulating and air-sealing challenging buildings.
- We also specialize in drainage and rainwater collection systems.
- We are certified by the National Association of Home Builders as Certified Green Professionals. We can be as green as the customer wishes.
